Property is 'volatile asset': FOCA

Taxation based on market value could be a key issue in next November's municipal elections as Ontario's cottagers band together to swin municipalities away from this form of tax base.

At its annual meeting, November 14 in Scarborough, the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations (FOCA) encouraged its member organizations to fight for an alternative tax base that will take into account people's ability to pay. FOCA represents more than 500,000 members in 300 cottage associations.

Market value assessment "is a big grey area" said FOCA president Jean Anthon who has a cottage in Haliburton County.

Contacted after the meeting last week, she said people really do not understand the issues. FOCA will be pressing the government to provide information that will help people understand.

Haliburton County has already asked for an impact study on tax assessment based on full market value assessment, which causes some concern that local ratepayers could be faced with the upheaval that Muskoka Lakes ratepayers are now experiencing.

Because property values can rise drastically with the pressures of a booming economy, population trends and general attitudes, Anthon feels it is not wise to base municipal tax on such a "volatile asset."

Cottage owners can find that the value of their property is skyrocketing with these outside pressures. And when a reassessment is conducted, their taxes rise in proportion, regardless of their ability to pay. In

County opposes mandatory bilingualism

When Haliburton County residents go to the polls for the 1988 municipal elections, they may also be casting a vote on mandatory bilingualism in Ontario.

After hearing a presentation from Rolland Ormerod from the Alliance for the Preservation of English in Canada (APEC) at last Wednesday's meeting, County Council passed a resolution asking for a referendum on the issue of mandatory bilingualism during the municipal elections.

APEC, a nationwide lobby group, was formed a number of years ago to address the growing trend toward mandatory requirements for all government services to be provided in both official languages. The group is not anti-French, but does oppose mandatory bilingualism.

Implementation of Bill 8, which deals with official bilingualism for Ontario, would come at a frightening cost to taxpayers, council heard. Ormerod estimated that implementation would cost about $150 million. In addition, he estimated that an extra 2,000 employees would be required to carry the Bill through, at an extra cost of $200 to $300 million per year.

In its resolution, council recognizes the "growing concerns to increased mandatory bilingualism" and asks that all residents of voting age be given the opportunity to voice their opinion. The resolution asks Minister of Municipal Affairs, John Eakins to include a referendum on this issue in the next municipal elections.

Road work to be held over

With winter weather closing in, it is unlikely that the reconstruction project on Bobcaygeon Road will be completed this year.

Anson, Hinson and Minden Roads Superintendent Clayton Cameron said the project's schedule is dependent on weather conditions. He anticipates the work will be completed on the section between the Gull River Bridge and Deep Bay Road this year and the rest will have to wait until the spring.

Before construction halts this winter, paving will be completed as far along as the Deep Bay Road. The sidewalks and storm sewer will be in place as far up the road as the school and library. Asphalt will be replaced on all areas of the road that have been stripped before work stops.

The reconstruction of the 800 metre strip of roadway hit a snag last week when it was discovered that water in the sub-soil was being pumped back up through the new mesh which has been laid. To prevent this, workers had to uncover the mesh and put a filter cloth in place.

Workmen lay a filter cloth on the road construction site to prevent water from seeping back to the surface.

Toni Carr, left, of Minden Figure Skating Club presents a cheque for $50 to Nancy Sales of the Haliburton Skating Club to start a fund for Jennifer Scheffee who was injured in a Hallowe'en night accident.

Fund is to help skater's recovery

Jennifer Scheffee's recovery period from injuries suffered in a Hallowe'en night accident will be made a little more comfortable with a fund started last week with a $50 contribution from the Minden Figure Skating Club.

Jennifer, who was hit by a car while out trick-or-treating, will be coming home soon from a hospital in Peterborough and the Minden and Haliburton skating clubs are hoping to have a waterbed and television in place for her arrival.

Jennifer skates with the Haliburton club and was also a member of the new precision team which combines both skating clubs. However, she will not be returning to the ice this year because of the leg injuries suffered in the accident.

Accepting the cheque from Toni Carr of the Minden Figure Skating Club Saturday morning, Haliburton representative Nancy Sales explained that Jennifer's leg is in traction and she will be spending a lot of time in bed even when she returns from the hospital. Both of her legs were broken and a pin had to be placed in one, said Sales.

Sales said Jennifer is getting a little lonely and would appreciate letters from her friends. Jennifer was also an amateur skating coach and her fellow coaches have prepared a humorous tape to help cheer her up.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund is encouraged to contact Nancy Sales at 457-1736 or Toni Carr at 286-2777.

Three people received minor injuries in a two-vehicle accident that caused an estimated $6,500 damage on Highway 121 east of Haliburton November 9.

John Packard, 39, of Dysart Township, was driving westbound on Highway 121 when he struck the side of a van which had backed out on to the highway. The van was driven by Peter Wilson, 26, also of Dysart township.

Both drivers and a passenger in the van received minor injuries as a result of the accident. Charges have been laid against both drivers.

Damage is estimated at $4000 to the 1983 Oldsmobile driven by Packard. Another $2500 damage is estimated to the 1977 Chevrolet van driven by Wilson.

Minden OPP Constable Ben Manuge is investigating.

Family flees fire

A fire Tuesday evening forced a family of four to flee a South Lake Road home.

Christine Reid and her three sons were forced out of their home after a fire was discovered in the basement utility room.

According to Minden Fire Chief, Don Booth, one of the sons was in the basement of the home, located near the intersection with the Bat Lake Road, when he noticed smoke coming from under the utility room door. Opening the door, he was met with dense smoke and flame. He attempted to extinguish the flames, but failed to do so.

The Minden fire department, responding to a call placed by the Reids, arrived to find the home filled with smoke and one area of the basement damaged by fire. Quick work on their part, limited the spread of the flames, and after clearing as much of the smoke from the home as possible, the fire was extinguished.

There was some structural damage to the home and extensive smoke damage throughout the building. Chief Don Booth estimates the damage at $15,000 to the building and $10,000 to the contents.

He said that the cause of the fire has not been determined, but since it is believed to have started in the utility room, a problem with electrical wiring is suspected.

None of the residents or the firefighters was injured.

Smoke billows from the front door of the Reid residence on South Lake Road as firemen attempt to bring a basement fire under control. The home suffered extensive smoke damage and will require structural repairs.

Anti-porn Bill like Nazi book burnings

The potential ramifications of the federal government's anti-pornography Bill have spurred Haliburton County Council to ask that Bill C-54 be reviewed.

At last Wednesday's County Council meeting, a resolution encouraging the federal government to review the Bill "in view of the philosophy of the library services in general and the provision of public library services to the residents of Haliburton County in particular."

The county library board fears that this legislation may result in certain books being removed from the library shelves.

Commenting on the county's request at last

Thursday's Lutterworth Township Council meeting Reeve Bill Valentine said, "I don't think the government has any right to censor what adults are entitled to read." Valentine, who is a member of the library board, compared the possible results of this bill to the book burning carried out by the Nazis in Germany. "It's nothing but Nazism," said Valentine.

The county's resolution will be forwarded to Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott, MPP John Eakins, the federal Minister of Culture and the Trent Library Board.

On side

Over the next few years, provincial and municipal politicians are going to be forced to wrestle with the difficult task of correcting the long-standing problem of double taxation for education which is being shelled out annually by Ontario's 500,000 cottage owners.

In an effort to have the education portion erased from their cottage property tax bill, cottagers, through their umbrella organization the Federation of Ontario Cottagers Association, are initiating an information campaign to bring this inequity to the forefront.

It's plain to see that the loss of these taxes would virtually crush the education systems in areas like Haliburton County that depend on them. For this reason, there is bound to be a tremendous backlash created when the issue ultimately receives the attention it deserves by the Ontario government.

However, it is equally plain to see that cottagers, whose children do not attend school here, should not be forced to carry the burden of our children's education. Even if they wanted to send their children to school here, the infrastructures are not in place to accommodate the extra students.

Although it is cottagers who are leading the march against this form of double taxation, they are not the only ones involved. Anyone who owns more than one property is required to pay twice or more for a commodity they can only use once.

While it is easy to identify the problem, the solution will be much more difficult to find. Simply letting cottagers off the hook for this portion of their taxes would be pulling the rug out from under the education systems in cottage country. Ignoring or denying the situation, though, will not help it go away.

Any action taken to right this wrong is likely to come as a result of a bitter struggle, pitting cottagers against permanent residents. Instead of allowing this to happen, permanent residents should get on side with our seasonal cousins to help ensure the problem is corrected without adverse effects to the education system we now enjoy.

River pollution

Editor:

I would like to express my concern over the new storm sewers in Minden.

My first concern, is over the pollution factor entering the Gull River. When we have a heavy rain fall, the water flowing through the storm sewers will contain animal wastes, as well as many other contaminants, such as salt from our roads which will be carried directly into the river. Without the storm sewers, most of the contaminants would be naturally filtered out through the soil before reaching the river. I am

Lake levels: 'no water - no taxes'

Editor:

It was of great interest to read your article and editorial of November 9, 1987 re the low water levels.

Your newspaper did an excellent job of presenting the facts. The ideal solution to this problem is to build new reservoirs. If you telephone the people at Trent about this matter, they state they are just honouring an agreement signed some 80 years ago to provide water for commercial purposes. The use of this water today does not meet the original intent of this act. Yes, we still have "commercial" use of the Trent, but by private corporations, i.e. House Boat rentals (some extra 80 boats, two years ago) for one.

We have two viewpoints

-- the boat users of the Trent and cottagers in Haliburton. Possibly it is time for this latter group to take a more forceful stand - No Water - No Taxes.

However, I am hoping that Acres International will recommend some fairer distribution of the water between both groups.

Keep up the fight for us Councillor Ann Barker as we need all the political clout that we can find for the people of our area.

Not only was our summer interfered with and now our water lines are at a great risk, on Horseshoe Lake our lovely marsh area is now a mud hole -- so much for nature!

The people of Haliburton are not second-class citizens of Ontario.

Communities helpful

Editor:

I would like to express my appreciation and thanks to the communities of Minden and Haliburton for their ability to come to the aid of others when they are in need. My sister and brother-in-law, Jacqueline Ziorjen-Coburn and Murray Coburn, were living in my grandfather's house in Kinmount until it burned to the ground last Saturday night. They had recently moved here from British Columbia, newly-weds, and when that house burned, so did all of their possessions.

The people of Haliburton County have donated clothing, housewares and many other personal effects. The High School Charity Fund will be collecting for Murray and Jacqueline for the next two weeks as well. A committee has been organized in Minden to set up an account at the Toronto-Dominion Bank to accept donations and a benefit dance will be held November 28.

These people are the reason why many residents stay in Haliburton County and why many people

What do you think about... Speaking out?

by Bill Kulas

Well, a year ago I started writing what I believed to be was a four-part series. Now, nearly fifty columns later I have decided to give it up because of other commitments which will be taking up most of my spare time.

Back in high school in Kirkland Lake, I had a gigantic dislike for anything to do with English literature and writing as was the case I suppose with the majority of my classmates. Then when I went on to business school at Niagara College, my outlook changed, I re-discovered the pen, paper and of course, Webster's Dictionary.

I must admit that writing this column each week was a challenge for me because I had to strive to word it in such a way to allow you, the reader, to make up your own mind regarding events or situations that affect all of us. So many times we Canadians take things for granted. We accept so readily what the Toronto Star prints, or what the newsmen on the CBC tell us each night, or what politicians, lawyers and judges tell us. They are not always right, are they?

This great land of ours was founded by pioneers from various lands who chose Canada as a land of promise and freedom. To remain so, we must learn to protect our rights and freedoms and not have laws, rules or regulations be imposed on the majority by a very few. We should all be a little more involved and a little more forceful in expressing our concerns rather than just sit back and allow things to happen uncontested. We cannot isolate ourselves from reality.

What is happening in Queen's Park, Parliament Hill, Washington or in other centres affects us. We are all members of a global society and as time goes on we will become more interdependent on each other. A local paper should get involved in issues that affect us now or may affect us in some way in the future, be it acid rain originating from south of the border or be it free trade. It's naive to think that what happens outside our local happenings doesn't affect us.

Remember that if something concerns you why not write in to your local paper and share it with others.

In closing, I would like to thank the many readers for their participation and encouragement as well as to Jack Brezina and the staff at The Times for their co-operation.

To all of you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Who's the fastest?

Ahhh autumn. I love this season, with its time-worn pre-winter rituals. Wheeling the cursed lawn mower into drydock while nervously making a mental note of where the snow shovels and the sidewalk salt are hiding. Surveying the ruins of my garden which looks like Russia must have looked to Napoleon's starving troops as they beat their retreat from Moscow. Scorched earth. Just a few decrepit old corn stalks and one sad green pumpkin that flunked the Hallowe'en makeup course.

Ah yes ... the wavering eyebrows of geese and ducks overhead, arrowing south, the windrows of leaves on my lawn that with any luck will blow away before I run out of excuses for not raking them ... all clues that winter is just around the corner. Clues that are confirmed by that one unmistakable harbinger of autumn ...

The publishers are stirring. The bookstores of the nation are awash with the peacock covers of brand new publications. Decrepit old authors and skittish young ones are showing up in libraries and town halls to give "readings" and "signings" in the hope that someone will buy their books.

Autumn is the time when literature comes alive in Canada, and for me the whole brief flowering is epitomized by the book I have in front of me right now.

The Guinness Book of Records 1988.

This is it. The record of the planet and more specifically, the human race, to date. This is the book that tells you the highest mountain, the deepest ocean, the hottest day and the coldest night ever recorded. Not to mention the fastest turkey plucking, largest pizza and smallest venomous snake.

Having trouble with your diet? You'll be pleased to know that you're still a long ways off the world's heaviest recorded human weight. That honour belongs to an American, Jon Brower Minnoch, who crushed the scales at 1400 pounds before he died in 1983.

Do your friends get on your back about your table manners? Refer them to page 175 where they can read about Michel Lotito, a Frenchman with a sweet

Acid rain report

The following report on precipitation is based on information gathered at the Ministry of Environment Acid Rain Testing Station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

There was only 1 precipitation event during the period November 8 - 14:

November 8: 6 mm rain, pH 4.1 from Indiana, Michigan and Lake Huron.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Sleeping ritual of youth

Let's talk about sleepers. No, not pyjamas favoured by young children and adults with Popsicle toes. Nor am I referring to those fascinating movies which are passed over by just about everyone when they're first released, but then, through pluck, or determination or some unexplainable magic, rise above their predicted doom to become a proverbial box office sensation.

The sleepers I'm interested in this week can be found at the end of a two and a half foot long string. These sleepers were the envy of every kid on the block and, as they "slept", they provided the tension needed to give such tricks as 'Walking the Dog' or 'Baby In The Cradle' or 'Slurp the Spaghetti' the excitement of a three ring circus -- well maybe not quite three rings.

I refer to the yo-yo. Ah yes, the yo-yo, one of the staple items of middle childhood. A finely honed precision instrument crafted from two round wooden discs, joined by a dowel, to which the aforementioned string is attached.

It was the law in our neighbourhood that every male child, prior to reaching the age of 13, should own and become proficient in the operation of a yo-yo. It would appear, that after gaining the full status of teenagehood, at the close of one's twelfth year, the ability to manipulate, with any degree of dexterity, art of yoyoing continued to flower and grow. It was this guru of the string who demonstrated to an eager jack's world

by editor & publisher Jack Brezina

this marvelous invention, somehow mysteriously evaporated. Perhaps it was the diversion created by other, more pressing matters.

I have fond memories of the yo-yo and its impact on my life. I recall vividly, the visit to the local variety store, of the yo-yo professional -- one of the handful of individuals over 13 years of age in whom the ring of yo-yoists how the string should be attached to the device so the yo-yo would sleep. (For those not awake during this portion of their childhood, a yo-yo is considered to be "sleeping" when, flung earthward from the finger to which it is attached, the yo-yo did not begin its ascent after reaching the end of its string, but rather hung suspended, as the wooden orb spun madly about its axis, attached to the string.)

It was in this sleeping mode that one would perform a variety of tricks, many of which involved the creation of various designs with the string while the yo-yo spun (slept) on. The trick of course, was to complete the design without disturbing the sleeping yo-yo and having executed the manoeuvre, to still have enough spin on the yo-yo for it to retract the string, returning it to the palm of your hand, after the design was allowed to dis-integrate.

Many a feverish hour was spent learning the technique of getting one's yo-yo to sleep, and then mastering the moves needed to duplicate the dexterity of the professional who was really on a sales tour for the toy's manufacturer. Those hours of practice yielded some results, but no one in our group ever matched the abilities of the professional, and, inevitably, just as one was getting the hang of it, the string would break and the yo-yo would be consigned to a drawer to await its discovery until next spring, or worse yet, one would turn 13 and never touch a yo-yo again.

Those halcyon days of my youth came flooding back to me the other day when my eight year old son

County assumes roads, better grants available

The following are items from the November 18 meeting of Haliburton County Council.

Increased Ministry of Transportation and Communications grants may be available for any future construction on Horseshoe Lake Road now that Haliburton County Council has agreed to incorporate the road back into its system.

At last Wednesday's meeting, County Council approved the request from Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Council to assume responsibility for this road as of January 1.

The problem with the townships continuing to maintain the road is that "we have more miles than money," said Reeve Sinc Nesbitt. At one time, Horseshoe Lake Road was in the County system, but it was turned back to the townships said Nesbitt.

The main difference in this new status is the road's eligibility for ministry grants for construction. County roads receive up to 80 per cent funding from the ministry while roads maintained by the townships are eligible for grants of only about 50 per cent.

New lease

A new five year lease with the Ministry of Governmental Services has been approved for the Haliburton County Registry Office, located across from the county building.

The new lease includes a rental increase of $2.20 per square foot over the previous fee of $7 per square foot. Annual rent will now be about $26,400.

Right to strike

The County has endorsed a resolution from Stanhope Township asking the provincial and federal governments to introduce an alternative method of settling labour disputes in the public sector.

Stanhope Township Council introduced this resolution at its October 14 meeting in response to a number of ongoing strikes by teachers and postal employees.

The resolution suggests that strikes by civil servants be banned and disputes be settled through mandatory arbitration.

Warna skates in Labrador

A graduate of the Minden Figure Skating Club, Warna Blakey, is currently teaching youngsters how to skate in the community of Goose Bay, Labrador.

Warna, a student of Seneca College where she is studying Figure Skating Coaching Techniques, is on a special two month teaching contract while between courses at the college. Her mother, Elaine Blakey, reports that Warna has taken to her new, although somewhat isolated, surroundings, eagerly and has accompanied her young students to a skating competition in Newfoundland.

Warna teaches at the Snowflake Figure Skating Club located in Happy Valley, just outside of Goose Bay. She reports to her parents Don and Elaine, that the weather is so far, similar to that experienced in Minden. She is looking forward to the first snowfall however, so she can go skiing before returning to school in Toronto.

While in Goose Bay, Warna is staying in a dormitory. Interestingly the supervisor of the dorm had no trouble in identifying Warna's hometown when she mentioned she was from Minden. As it turned out, the supervisor's children visit each summer at a relative's cottage on Lake Kashagawigamog.

Warna is expected home for Christmas before returning to school in the new year.

Students match teachers' donation

Thanks to the co-operative effort of staff and students at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, the Haliburton Hospital Expansion Fund is $3000 richer. A cheque in that amount was turned over to the fund raising committee Friday at the high school.

The money was raised through the staff presentation of the light-hearted comedy, 'The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch' and through donations received from members of the teaching, secretarial and custodial staff at the school.

The student council of HHSS also made a substantial contribution to the fund raising effort. Drawing from their charity fund, the council matched the donations made by the staff to bring the total contribution to the $3000 mark.

well aware of people living on the river outside of town who still rely on the river as a source for their drinking and wash water.

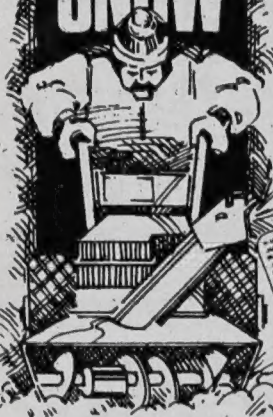

My second concern arises from the depth in which the drainage pipe was placed where it enters the river. This appears to have been placed below the normal water level of the river. Although, I am not an expert in this field, I see no way that the water will not back-up into the storm sewers when the water is at a high level in the river. I feel that instead of diminishing the flooding conditions such as we had in October of 1986, it could possibly worsen these conditions considerably.

We have beautiful lakes and rivers in the Haliburton Highlands, do we want to risk losing them?

PROPERTY ASSESSMENT

and your 1988 Municipal and School Taxes

Regional Assessment Offices located throughout Ontario are responsible for assessing all real property for the purposes of municipal and school taxation.

Assessment Rolls are prepared and delivered to municipalities which use them to set mill rates and calculate property tax bills. The amount of property tax you will pay on your home or business in 1988 is determined by multiplying the assessed value of your property by the mill rate.

If you want to learn more about your property assessment, the Regional Assessment Office invites you to attend its Open House Session.

Open House Sessions

Open Houses are held in every municipality at convenient times and locations to provide you with the opportunity to discuss your assessment with the staff of the Regional Office.

An assessor will be pleased to explain the basis of your property assessment and is authorized to amend any inaccurate information prior to the delivery of the Assessment Roll to your municipality.

If you have any questions, but are unable to attend the Open House, please contact your Regional Assessment Office at the address or telephone number shown below.

Notice of Property Valuation

Property owners and tenants will receive a Notice of Property Valuation only if information relating to their property assessment was changed during the past year, if the assessment was appealed last year, or if there has been a general reassessment in the municipality. If you receive a Notice of Property Valuation, it may reflect changes you have requested in your school support designation, in the amount of your assessed value, or other recorded information on last year's Notice.

Appeal Procedure

If, after attending your local Open House, you are still dissatisfied with your assessment, you have the right to appeal it to the Assessment Review Board. This Board is responsible for determining whether the assessment under appeal is fair and equitable with the assessments of similar properties in the vicinity. The Assessment Review Board is more informal and relaxed than a regular court of law.

Appeal Deadline

The final date for appealing your assessment is January 12, 1988.

If you wish to appeal your assessment, you can use the form provided on the back of your Notice of Property Valuation, write a letter, or use a Notice of Appeal Form. You need to include your property address, roll number, and the reason for the appeal. Your appeal must be filed on or before January 12, 1988.

To assist you, Notice of Appeal forms and the address of the Regional Registrar of the Assessment Review Board are available at Open Houses, your Regional Assessment Office, or your municipal office.

Times, Halls share men's league lead

With a third of the season out of the way, there is still no clear leader in the men's recreational hockey league.

Halls and The Times each won their games last Monday, propping their records to four wins and a loss. The Rockcliffe fell off the lead with its narrow loss to The Times.

And, while these three teams have been juggling the top spot since the season began, it looks as though a new challenger is mounting a climb in the standings. Hartwick won its second straight game last Monday after starting the season with three straight losses. Two weeks ago, they upset The Times and last Monday they boosted their record with a 18-13 win over Vasey. Both Vasey and Home

Hardware are still struggling in the basement with one win and four losses.

Halls 13, Home 1

In the first game of the night, Halls dominated the play scoring four times in the first period and three in the second. Home Hardware's Bret Austin put his team on the scoreboard with a goal in the final frame, but Halls added another six in that period.

John Barkwell paved the way for the impressive win with six goals while Barry Boice earned the hat-trick. Single-goal scorers were Rick Lowes, Dave Rogers, Greg Anderson and Kim Collis.

Vince Duchene played goal for Halls, while Bernie Neary manned the net for Home Hardware.

Times 11, Rockcliffe 8

A strong third-period drive gave The Times an 11-8 edge over the Rockcliffe in the second game of the night.

The Rockcliffe took a 2-1 lead in the first period, but The Times fought back to even the score at 5-5 by the end of the second. The Times outscored their opponents 6-3 in the final frame to give them the win.

Sid MacKeigan led the scoring for The Times with four goals, while Roger Schandlen and Jeff Howe each scored three times. John McAdam scored once for the winning effort.

Al Cunningham notched four goals for the Rockcliffe while singles went to Bernie Upton, John McGivern, John Fedeski and Merv Mintz.

Doug Pearson was in net for the Rockcliffe while Rob Crowe played goal for The Times.

Hartwick 18, Vasey 11

Goaltenders at either end of the ice had their hands full as Hartwick took on Vasey in a high-scoring game.

Vasey's Kevin Smith faced a fury of rubber in the third period as Hartwick scored 11 times to mount their 18-11 win. This was the second win for Hartwick, moving them into third place in the

Funds sought

A number of accidents on Long Lake hill have spurred County Council to seek supplementary funding from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for road improvements.

At last Wednesday's meeting, County Council heard that the gravel had been worn away from the road's surface and the dry summer has resulted in the road oil coming to the surface.

The estimated cost of the project, to be completed next year, is $50,000.

Canadians respond to the call

- by John Eakins -

Earlier this month, I along with many others in our communities, took part in Remembrance Day activities throughout Victoria-Haliburton.

In this week's column, I would like to include the comments I made in the legislature on behalf of the government on November 10.

Tomorrow, November 11, Canadians of all generations across Canada will pause to pay tribute to and to honour all the brave individuals who served and gave their all that we might live in freedom today. On behalf of the Premier, Mr. Peterson, I would like to express the government of Ontario's respect and gratitude.

Canadian men and women have always responded quickly and with determination to defend the freedom and way of life that we enjoy today. This way of life is their memorial, our freedom is their legacy and the relaxation of world peace is the best monument that we can erect in their honour.

For many people in this province, and this country, war is something remote, other than the viewing of special television programs of the remembrance of Vimy, Dieppe, D-Day, etc. We have throughout our province and yes, within the Ontario public service and within this building, those men and women who served with distinction, were decorated. There are also those who know only too well the horrors of it all through confinement in prisoner-of-war or concentration camps.

In urging the twinning of sister communities throughout the world, General Eisenhower said at the close of the Second World War, "We have learned to win the war, but we have never learned to win the peace." Our obligation is both to keep alive the memory of those who served and to do everything in our power to be windows to the world in international friendship and understanding.

Tomorrow, Remembrance Day, we have that opportunity, appreciatively, through the leadership of our comrades of the Royal Canadian Legion, to express our gratitude and to take it to those to whom we owe a tremendous debt. At the going down of the sun and in the morning, we will remember them.

Glowing yo-yos

brought home a yo-yo. While the basics are much the same, the 1987 edition of this kid's favourite, hardly resembled those of my memory. Plastic has replaced wood. The Cadillac of yo-yos in my time included four small jewel-like diamond shaped glass highlights imbedded in each face. His contained two AA batteries and lights which were activated by a switch operated by centrifugal force. The only thing that links this device with the toy I recall with such warm memories, was the string. After all, there isn't much they can do with string, to make it "new and improved" I mean.

Oh, its alright, I guess. New age -- new wave and all that. This yo-yo still goes up and down, like they have done since the toy was invented in the Phillipines many years ago. Unfortunately, however, I was unable to demonstrate my considerable talents with this 1987 yo-yo, because this one just wouldn't sleep. Perhaps best if I leave that for my dreams.

Hartwick wins in final frame

standings.

The game started out well enough for Vasey. They trailed 4-3 at the end of the first and took an 8-7 lead by the end of the second period. However, Hartwick really applied the pressure in the third to earn the win.

Dave Hartwick and Brian Shaw each scored six times in the Hartwick effort, while Larry Sawyer added two. Bart Hilhorst scored once for Hartwick.

Dean Hewitt led the way for Vasey with seven goals while Ed Gibbons scored twice. Kevin Hamilton and Norm Barry each scored one.

The men's recreational league heads into its sixth week of the schedule tonight at the Minden arena. At 7 p.m. Hartwick will try to extend its winning streak to three as they meet the Rockcliffe. Home Hardware takes on The Times at 8:30 p.m. and Vasey and Halls will fight it out at 10 p.m.

Redmen still seeking first win

Rally crushed in final frame

Sometimes you get the bounces and sometimes you don't.

Last Thursday night at Dysart arena, the puck just wasn't bouncing in favour of the HHSS Redmen as they took their fourth straight loss against St. Peters.

With less than two minutes left in the game and the score tied at 5-5 a tremendous Redmen rally was spoiled when the puck took an awkward bounce off the boards and landed right on the stick of a St. Peters forward, who shovelled it into the open side of the net.

Coach Ron Stackhouse seemed to have his team under better control Thursday as the players avoided the costly penalties that plagued them through their first two games of the schedule. And by cutting down on the penalties, the Redmen mounted a challenge equal to that of the strong St. Peters club.

Haliburton goaltender Scott Burk had his hands full in the first period dealing with shots from the St. Peters marksmen. Crisp passing and fast skating gave St. Peters the edge in the early going as they scored the opening goal seven minutes into the game. A hard shot along the ice just caught the post putting St. Peters into the lead.

The visitors went up 2-0 six minutes later as they took advantage of a Redmen defensive lapse that left a man open in front of the net.

Scott Russell put the Redmen back into the game a few seconds later as he virtually danced through the St. Peters defence and chipped his first of two goals into the mesh.

St. Peters seemed to lose some of their steam in the second period and the Redmen started controlling the flow of the game. Erin Nicholls accepted a perfect pass from Jaro Cooper right in front of the net and knotted the score at 2-2.

The tie did not last for long, though. Only three seconds had elapsed on the clock before St. Peters capitalized on a wild rebound to regain the lead. And less than a minute later they shovelled another loose rebound into the net to increase their lead to two goals.

The Redmen narrowed the gap on a power-play goal as Jaro Cooper connected on a pass from Erin Nichols.

The Redmen continued to control the play but they just could not put the puck in the net. They kept the pressure inside the visitors' blue line, but it was St. Peters who found the mark first in the final frame.

With the clock ticking away, the Redmen increased the pressure and Chris Lanigan finally found the opening to bring his team within striking distance. Scott Russell then intercepted a pass and evened the score at 5-5 with less than four minutes to play.

With the possibility of their first win dangling in front of their noses, the Redmen tested St. Peters goaltender with a flurry of shots in the dying minutes of play. However, it all came down to one awkward bounce off the boards and St. Peters put it away.

The next home game for the Redmen is this Wednesday at 7:15 p.m. against Kenner.

Tom MacLeod fires another shot at the St. Peters net during a Redmen rally in the final period of last Thursday's game. St. Peters edged the Redmen 6-5 with a goal in the final two minutes of play.

Moving day turns sour

Some new Gooderham area residents received a shocking welcome to the community when more than $10,000 worth of their belongings were stolen on moving day.

Minden OPP report that on November 15, a family was in the process of moving into their new home on a back road in Monmouth Township near Gooderham. They left the residence to go and have Sunday dinner and when they returned three hours later, more than $10,000 worth of their belongings had been stolen.

Missing was a large quantity of video equipment, power tools and household items. Constable Jim Solway is investigating the theft.

Other thefts around the county reported during the week of November 9 to 15 are as follows:

Jewellery and cash valued at $3,100 were taken from a residence on the Lutterworth Boundary Road near Minden.

Fog lights were stolen from a pair of vehicles at a car dealership on the Minden bypass valued at $150.

Two flags valued at $35 were taken from flag poles at another car dealership on the highway.

A car stereo and speakers worth $600 were taken from a car parked near Wilberforce.

Minden OPP investigated 50 general occurrences during that week, as well as nine motor vehicle accidents.

The Minden Curling Club held its first bonspiel of the season on Saturday with eight teams competing in the "Shovel into Winter" 'spiel. (top photo) Dianne Warnes' rink won both games to finish in first place. Shown from the left are Audrey MacMartin, Molly McKenzie, Doreen Berry and Dianne Warnes. Gwen Cox was skip for this rink's first game. (middle photo). Runners up in Saturday's bonspiel were Sheila Elston's rink. From the left are Elston, Jane Rosenberg, Barbara Ramsay and Ann Lee. (Bottom photo) The third place team from the left are Mary Grant, skip, Ellen Gough, Wendy Gough and Jackie Maguire.

Taxes are forcing cottagers to sell

Muskoka, the average tax increase for cottage properties resulting from a recent reassessment was 32.5 per cent. Anthon says some seniors have been forced to sell their properties because they could not afford to pay the increased taxes.

"There should be some consideration for what people are able to pay," said Anthon. "People find themselves in areas that have increased dramatically in value and can't afford to pay. It's a real situation in Muskoka. Some seniors have had to sell their properties because of the increased taxes. It's a shock they shouldn't have to absorb."

Basing municipal taxes on full-market value does not change a municipality's income generated through taxation. The tax hikes faced by those with soaring property values are offset by reduced taxes from those whose property values have remained stable or declined.

While the Ministry of Revenue offers the option of going to full-market value, municipalities make the final choice. FOCA feels that unless this issue is addressed at election time, voters really have no say in the matter.

Anthon said there was a record crowd at the annual meeting demonstrating the amount of interest in this and the interwoven topic of education taxes.

Tired of a system that sees them paying twice for education taxes, FOCA members will be petitioning all levels of government to have the education portion dropped from their cottage property taxes.

Cottagers feel this form of double taxation is unfair. Although their children are allowed to attend school only in the area of their permanent residences, they are still made to contribute to the education system in the area of their cottages.

Library usage is still rising

library corner

by Joel Levis

Library usage continues to climb in Haliburton County and while this fact does not surprise the County Librarian, the scope of the increase does.

Joel Levis reports that it is projected national public library usage will increase by 40 per cent toward the end of the century. That averages about 3 per cent per year, but Levis says "library usage in the county is up 10 per cent during the month of October alone." Although this will be reduced when the whole year is folded in, it will still be way above average.

Levis suggests that part of the reason is probably the aggressive style of materials selection that has been incorporated into the system. "With the backing of our Materials Selection Policy, we acquire the materials that people want even before they come to us. Happy patrons are returning patrons and just like any business, we like repeat customers.

The following new materials have been acquired as part of the fall publishing program, and we are proud to be able to make these materials available to all library users."

Bill Cosby starts it off with 'Time Flies, a study of a man involved in the crises of being middle-aged told in a manner which only the master can evoke.

For those who like a popular view of society and culture, UBC professor Dr. David Suzuki has written, 'Metamorphosis'. In her 'Guide to Canadian Universities', Linda Frum tells that among other things, the fact that Suzuki teaches at UBC is one of the best known facts about the place; one of the least known is that students never even get close to him. Suzuki takes readers through the world of culture, while Frum examines the world of the Canadian university with lots of advice on where to go, why to go and what to expect when you get there. If you can't know Canada without Suzuki, you can't go to University without Frum.

In the fiction department, John Jakes continues to use the civil war and the south as a setting for 'Heaven and Hell' and Len Deighton uses 'Winter' as the setting for a novel study of two Germans who are on both sides of the fence until Nuremberg brings them together. This supports the theory that if the Nazis had not existed, modern literature would

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

In November, when the clouds are lowering and the wind is swirling sudden showers of wet snow about, flocks of small slim ducks fly low and fast just above the surface of the lake. For a moment the sun breaks through the cloud cover and shines bright on the brilliant white and black plumage of the males. As they fly, a melodious ululation, a repetitive ow-owly, comes from the flock.

Along the Great Lake the oldsquaw ducks have found their Florida. Birds of the Arctic tundra, they will winter in the comparatively balmy climes of southern Ontario, returning north to nest late in May.

They are circumpolar in their nesting. In Europe they are known as long-tailed ducks. In North America their name oldsquaw or old wife, conferred because they are rarely silent, is a sexist slur.

It is the male who is the vocalist.

The male in his spectacular white and dark winter plumage is an arresting sight. His long dandyish tail feathers, cocked up as he rides the waves, give him a jaunty air. In the spring in his nuptial plumage, his white nape, neck and breast change to a deep rich brown, nearly black on the upper surfaces, with a light patch around the eye.

The females are neat and rather nondescript, with infinite variations in their brown and white plumage. So unpredictable is the spring plumage of the females that even seasoned birdwatchers sometimes study a particularly oddly patterned female thinking they have found some strange new wanderer.

These little ducks are great entertainers. They dive like the grebes and loons, going deep for food and staying under water for fairly long periods. They do not seem particular in their food, eating a wide variety of molluscs, aquatic insects and vegetation.

When they are not diving, the flock keeps up a constant chatter. As the days lengthen in February, the rich, musical notes of the males carry across the water. Once heard the sound is unforgettable. With each syllable, the male throws his head back so that the call has a vibrant resonance.

Late in May, when the calling has reached a high pitch, small flocks begin to head north to their nesting grounds near inland ponds on the tundra. After all that talk the male leaves the female to incubate the egg. Nesting here is a hazardous business. There are many nest robbers like skuas, glaucous gulls and foxes. When they hatch, the day-old chicks must follow the mother on the dangerous journey to the nearest water.

The new Atlas of Breeding Birds of Ontario notes that oldsquaw are uncommon nesters in Ontario, on the coast of Hudson Bay near the Manitoba border. This represents the most southerly extent of their nesting range.

Kennel call

Beautiful black and white long-haired cat, he's up to date on his shots but not yet neutered. He's two years old and very affectionate. Great disposition and very handsome.

Also available for adoption is a 10-year-old Shih-Tzu. She's very gentle, spayed and also up to date on her shots. She would be a great pet for an elderly couple (not used to children).

From Gooderham - large white male hound with black spot on back.

For more information please call Dr. P.J. Bennett at the Minden Animal Clinic - 286-2919.

Many new books to strike fancy

be in sad shape and we would have to invent them.

Now, if you didn't work your way through it last time, this is a good time of the year to re-acquaint yourself with James Clavell's 'Whirlwind' which features adventure, Asia, love, drama and just about anything else that will strike your fancy.

And just when you thought it was safe to go back to the media, you will find yourself assaulted at every turn by media-men both past and present. Did we say media-men? Forgive us Vicki Gabereau wherever you are. Vicki has hit the author trail with 'This Won't Hurt A Bit', the story that we have all been waiting for by this well-regarded interviewer.

Knowlton was so successful last time around that he has now returned with his 'Prime Time at Ten', a behind-the-scenes view of the National. Would the fact that he is leaving the National give him some courage to talk about some things more than others?

Did we use the word "successful"? Brace yourself for these biggies from those that have gone before ... Peter Gzowski's 'The New Morningside' recreates moments that his fans love so much and captures the essence of the land using the words of the people themselves. You probably couldn't have used a lot of the words that Gordon Sinclair knew, but Scott Young's 'Gordon Sinclair' has proven to be quite a popular item and the interest will grow as more and more learn about the book.

Someone who also knows a lot of words is Pierre Berton who has another winner on his hands with 'Starting Out', a biography of his life from 1920 to 1947. Even Farley Mowat with 'Virunga', the story of Dian Fossey's passion to bring peace to the lives of the mountain gorillas of the Virunga Mountains will be certain to touch a nerve or two.

There is more than one kind of nerve on the go, however. And we are surely stocked with nerve right now. Shall we start with Gary Ross and 'Stung'? This is a story of an up-and-coming young Canadian banker who learned how to get the money from the bank and distribute it throughout the game tables of Atlantic City and Vegas with a minimum of fuss and a lot of fun.

If you like political fun-and-games, Claire Hoy's 'Friends in High Places' and Michel Grattan's 'So What Are the Boys Saying' will all take you on a very, merry romp through the Ottawa political scene of today, yesterday and tomorrow. Two different viewpoints of what has been going on in what Fotheringham likes to call "coma city" for some reason!

It's a good year for history. Peter C. Newman continues his epic of the history that Berton forgot with 'Caesars of the Wilderness'. To help you to find where it was all happening, Craig Brown's 'Historical Atlas of Canada' will prove to be invaluable. Mind you, the 'Illustrated History of Canada' will be handy if you just want a good overview of it all. If history has anything to do with courage, 'Paddle to the Amazon' will be just what the doctor ordered. However, you may be disappointed to find out that someone has beaten you to it.

This is just a partial list of the materials that are a part of the collection of the Haliburton County Public Library right now!

Why not drop in and find the many different ways that we can help you from writing a resume to baking a cake, from learning about yourself to learning about your country, from playing a guitar to just finding a good "read"?

And we never did mention 'The Tommy-knockers'. It's by Stephen King and it's new and it's really quite scary. You may not want to read it all in one sitting, but you will want to experience it sooner or later!

Drama club is formed

voices of hhss

by Katy Beach, Dianne Garbutt
and Heather Donaldson

Hello! Well, we have finally made into the paper again. We are sorry we're late, but then again so are the yearbooks!

It's only mid November and already many activities have come and gone such as field hockey and the exciting football seasons.

1987-1988 is already proving to be a very busy year for all associated with HHSS.

A drama club has been organized with the help of Miss Robichaud. Many students have joined and will broadcast their talents to the world on December 3 at 8 p.m. when a "Talent Night" will be held. Dance and music presentations, skits and a one-act play called "The Flesh Game" (don't worry, it's about a health farm!) under the direction of L. Tashlin. Come out and make the night a success. Tickets will be sold at the door and prices range from $3 for adults and $1 for students and seniors.

Curling has begun yet again this year and those who are advanced at the game and those who are beginners (you know who you are) are grouped into teams and are slotted for 'friendly' competition. Good sweeping to all.

Students at the school have become 'movie stars' of sorts acting up in front of the camera that has been making sudden appearances since September. A film club under the direction and supervision of Mr. Wallace has been founded and all the footage taken throughout the year shall be edited, compiled into a form of a video yearbook to sell at a later date.

Billy Idol made an unexpected appearance Friay the 13th at the dance. When entertainment was given by the B.R.I.N.K. fuses did blow but the show continued.

Although the air has become quite cool, it still feels like summer with the high temperatures in certain areas of school making all wish June was here a little sooner. But it is still an awfully long way off, so grin and bear it, treasure your every weekend and for that matter, every spare.

Join in some school events and school life will become a bit more bearable!

THANK YOU

Due to health reasons, I have decided to sell my business - Hans' Electronics. There will be no change in sales and service and the name and telephone number stay the same.

I will stay on as part time when needed. We thank all our friends and customers who supported us for 16 years and hope you will give the new owners, Jim and Susan, the same support.

Thank you from our hearts.

In the latest issue of "The Consumer" Jack Lyndon, president of the Insurance Bureau of Canada warns that if you are considering installing a wood burning stove in your home, to make sure it is installed properly or it could become a potential fire hazard.

He explains the importance of the stove and installation meeting safety standards, if standards are not met there is a possibility of a buyers insurance company not offering continued coverage of their dwelling. Marsha's murder monumental mixup

Marsha, poor Marsha, the victim of her own over-active imagination, fuelled by a steady diet of mystery novels. She happens to overhear a portion of her husband's plan to give her a surprise birthday present, and incorrectly assumes she is about to be murdered in a most gruesome fashion.

Variations on this theme are almost a staple in little theatre repertoires and this past week, the members of the Highlands Little Theatre used it again as they presented 'Let's Murder Marsha,' written by Monk Ferris.

The play is pretty light fare, but the cast handled it with the expert touch they have acquired over the years of presenting comedy and farces. This particular play was directed by long-time member of the organization, Dale McConnell. He did an excellent job of staging the comedy, building on the growing confidence of a number of familiar faces.

Marsha Gilmore, the highly-strung, over-wrought housewife with non-stop homicidal fantasies, was the central character of the play. Anne Creelman in this lead role captured the hair-brained essence of this character who was the key in the plot development. Alternating between paranoia and the calculating, revenge-seeking wife, Creelman deftly eld the audience and the other characters through the twists and turns of the plot.

Glen Carter, who played her husband Tobias, and Michael Gilhooly as the helpful neighbour across the hall, Virgil Baxter, provided excellent foils for Creelman's performance. Repeatedly Tobias would find himself in conversation traps which only heightened his wife's suspicions as he tried to explain away his actions. Baxter, the somewhat befuddled accomplice who became swept up in Marsha's plans of revenge, was cuttingly played by Gilhooly.

The maid at the Gilmore residence, Bianca, played by Maureen O'Hara, helps to support the misguided fantasies of Marsha by adding her own observations and suggestions. On the other hand, Elaine Schmid, in the character of

(more on page 32)

The plot to murder Marsha thickens, or so Marsha and Virgil Baxter (Anne Creelman and Michael Gilhooly) think as they overhear plans being discussed. Marsha's husband, Tobias, and interior decorator Persis Devore (Glen Carter and Elaine Schmid), foreground, are in fact discussing plans for Marsha's birthday surprise.

Hello Readers: Nice weather we are having. Our week started by the evening service in the Chapel by Rev. J. Burgess and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. Tuesday morning Rev. Moll from Minden United Church had the service. We had a cup of tea with Mr. and Mrs. Thompson on Sunday evening after the service. We are sorry to see them leave.

Fourth derby ready to go

The fourth running of the Minden Sled Dog Derby, the largest sled dog race in Ontario, will take place on Saturday, January 9, and Sunday, January 10, in the county town of the Haliburton Highlands.

Entry forms are now being sent out to more than 250 mushers across Canada and the United States, inviting them to join in the competition for the largest purse in the event's history.

The first 15 finishers in each racing category - eight-dog and four-dog - will receive a part of the $10,000 purse. First prize in the eight-dog race is $2,000 with $1,000 and $500 for second and third places respectively. The top three prizes in the four-dog race are $1,000, $750 and $500. The top three winners in each race will also take home a trophy and a bottle of champagne.

Sponsored by Martin Feed Mills of Elmira, Ontario, the Minden Sled Dog Derby is the only race in Ontario sanctioned by the International Sled Dog Racing Association. The substantial purse, a challenging course, first-class organization, and the fine tourist facilities of the Haliburton Highlands will attract an outstanding field of top-flight competition.

Mushers are invited to contact Val Loughheed, Race Co-ordinator, R.R. 1, Kinmount, Ontario K0M 2A0, for entry forms and information.

friends. Carol Francis my granddaughter and her daughter Kari came to visit with me on Saturday. Bert Harrison had a visit from his daughter and her husband.

Our Thursday afternoon tea was brought in by the Kinmount Legion Ladies. It was really nice and everyone enjoyed it. Mrs. Coburn entertained us on Friday afternoon which we always like so much.

Sorry to report two of our residents are in hospital, Mrs. Daisy Sutherland and Mrs. Mamie Swann. We hope they will be better soon.

The movies Monday night were "The Framer" and "Yellowstone Park".

Doris and Linda took a bus load of the residents to Huntsville for Christmas shopping. It was a lovely day and everyone enjoyed it very much.

The Murray Davis's were in Tuesday evening to entertain us. The Earl Coopers and the Highland dancers were also here to entertain us this week. They try to make us feel young again!

The Christmas Bazaar and Tea Wednesday was quite a success and Mrs. Lily Hogg won the quilt.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Let's Murder Marsha

Persis Devore, an accomplice in the surprise Tobias Gilmore is planning for his wife, provides additional twists to the plot development. Both characters were ably interpreted and added to the flow of the story.

The case was rounded out by Eleanor Cooper, who appeared as Marsha's mother, Lynette Thoren and Doug Brohm, as Bianca's boyfriend, the police officer Ben Quade.

Let's Murder Marsha was an entertaining, fast-paced farce, cleverly interpreted by cast and crew alike. The players on stage were obviously having fun with what they were doing, making the audience enjoy their role that much more. Hats off to the Little Theatre group for another entertaining presentation.

In addition to the cast,

Monday, November 23, 1987

the crew included: stage manager Carol Thompson assistant stage manager Gailon Valteau, lighting by Jim Andrews and Curtis Eastmure, house manager Debra Dart, publicity by Betty Mark and Heather Scully, tickets Brenda Ellis and make-up Heather Scully.

A scene from the Highlands Little Theatre presentation, 'Let's Murder Marsha'. Cast members include, from the left, Eleanor Cooper, Elaine Schmidt, Anne Creelman, Michael Gilhooly on the couch, and Glen Carter. The play was presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the high school.

Minden W.I.

Seventeen members of Minden Women's Institute met at the Common Room at 2 p.m. on November 18th when Mrs. C. Lacey presided at our regular meeting, welcoming one guest.

After the usual opening and reports, Mrs. W. Moore reported sending 17 cards since the last meeting. Collections for Card Fund and Pennies for Friendship and Birthday Box were taken and all joined in Happy Birthday.

Mrs. Lyman Cox, then gave a full and interesting report of Area Convention at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, November 3 and 4.

It was decided to send $50 to the Municipality toward Christmas Baskets and also $200 to our local hospital.

The ladies had written suggestions as to programs and these were read and discussed. A prize will be awarded to the member bringing the most guests to the Christmas meeting. We are hopefully getting the video of F.W.I.O. 90th Anniversary Party of last spring for a future meeting.

After the meeting all enjoyed a social half hour and snacks served by the committee. Next meeting will be at the United Church Hall, Wednesday, December 16th at 2 p.m., bring food donations for Christmas Cheer baskets and a $3 gift exchange. All ladies welcome.

TRY SLEEPING ON AIR

If you're in the market for a new mattress, air beds offer a comfortable alternative to spring, foam and water-filled models.

According to Gerry Price, director of operations for PRICE MANUFACTURING in Burlington, Ont., whose AIR-PEDIC beds represent about 85% of the air beds sold in Canada, the main advantage of the air mattress is its ability to conform to the sleeper's body and distribute weight evenly.

Air beds were originally developed for burn and chronic care patients. Elaine Anderson, acting patient care co-ordinator on the geriatric ward at Chedoke McMaster Hospital in Hamilton, which uses Air-Pedic beds, says that air beds are effective in reducing bed sores in long-term patients. (They reduce pressure points characteristic of spring mattresses and do not create a hammock effect the way water beds do when they displace water to the sides) Air beds are also very light, weighing in at about 13.6 kilograms (30 lbs) when fully inflated. Their firmness can be adjusted in seconds by an optional electric pump. Dual air chambers and controls are available on larger models for sleeping partners who prefer different degrees of firmness.

A double air bed with mattress, foundation and electronic pump costs $699.00; a queen size bed with dual electronic pump is $799.00. Models with manual foot pumps are $150.00 less.

IN MEMORIAM

DAVIES: In loving memory of our mother, Norma C. Davies, who passed away November 23, 1986.

We mourned for her in silence,
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear is shed
While others are asleep.

Sadly missed by her family
Tara, Tim, Steve and Debbie.

IN MEMORIAM

DAVIES: In memory of Norma C. Davies who passed away November 23, 1986.

There will always be a heart-ache,
And often a silent tear,
But always precious memories,
Of the days when you were here.
We hold you close within our hearts
And there you will remain,
To walk with us through all our lives
Until we meet again.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed, Mom Sisters and Brothers and their families.

DAVIES: In loving memory of a dear friend, Norma, taken from us November 23, 1986.

We often think of days gone by
When we were all together
A shadow o'er our lives has cast
A dear friend's gone, forever.

Always remembered and sadly missed by Susan and Joan.
